To Whom It May Concern,

When I took over as President of the Suffolk County Court Employees Association in June 2015, I heard about an organization called AccuHealth from one of the other Court Union Presidents. I immediately called John Quinn at AccuHealth to arrange a meeting to find what they were all about. After meeting with John, I was convinced that this would be a great program to offer my members. There was no cost to the member and no cost to the union. Even better than that, members were given an opportunity to get medical testing done during their workday, right outside of the building where they work. AccuHealth provides people with opportunities to be proactive with their own healthcare.

With the tests performed by their team, life threatening medical conditions, which may not be producing symptoms yet, can be caught early. With results in hand, the member can go to his or her own doctor to begin treating the condition while it is still treatable. This program saves lives. Our members are very happy with it. AccuHealth provides an invaluable service to union members.
